ELEVATOR MISSION SUCCESSFUL

President Schwengers Reports to Chamber Directors on Negotiations in East

$200,000 Credit Agreed to by Dominion Bank; Supporters Vie in Offering Backing

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, after a long session this morning, voted in favor of proceeding towards the consummation of a deal for the construction of a grain elevator at Ogden Point for the Panama-Pacific Grain Terminals Limited, provided arrangements made for financing with the bank are satisfactory.

The directors also decided to work in co-operation with the industrial committee of the City Council, which has charge of the proposed elevator by-law. Mayor Pandey and Alderman Eugene S. Woodward attended the directors' session to-day.

The decision was arrived at following the report made by C. W. P. Schwengers, president of the chamber, on the result of the negotiations he, J. S. H. Matson and Alderman Woodward carried on in the East during the trip from which they have just returned.

Mr. Schwengers announced in this report that after two days of negotiations with bank officials and railway officials in Toronto, when the whole elevator project here was investigated from every angle, the Dominion Bank agreed to give a credit up to $200,000 upon the completion of the elevator here.

Other meetings of the directors and committee directly interested, will be held immediately to city with various angles of the problem of completing the elevator deal. The elevator will cost $800,000 and towards this the city will guarantee $500,000 of bonds, it is proposed.

The elevator here would be ready for operation by January 15 next, under guarantee given to the city by the contractors, Mr. Schwengers also announced.

The meeting passed a special resolution embodying a vote of thanks to Mr. Schwengers and Mr. Matson for what they had accomplished towards bringing about the elevator here and their public-spiritedness in their special trip East at their own expense to further the negotiations.

VANCOUVER BEER PARLOR REOPENED

Suspension of Albert J. Lake's Permit Lifted by Commissioner Davidson

Vancouver, June 29.—His license to operate a beer parlor restored, Albert J. Lake, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, Cambie Street, Vancouver, threw open the doors to men and women alike this morning.

Lake's license was suspended by Hugh Davidson, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, several weeks ago for alleged drunkenness on the premises.

Proceedings by way of prerogative writ of mandamus to compel return of the license failed before Chief Justice Hunter in the Supreme Court. Suspension of the license was lifted, however, yesterday by the Liquor Control Board.

He is the first proprietor in Vancouver openly to supply beer to women since the hotelmen of the city agreed about a year ago to ban them from their parlors. The Liquor Control Board has not indicated whether it will permit Lake's action to pass unchallenged.

Lake believes he has overcome criticism against the mingling of men and women in beer parlors by providing separate rooms for the sexes.

FLYING TIMBER KILLS LOGGER

Sutt Albertson Dies as Result of Accident at Shawigan Lake Yesterday

Man Rushed to Hospital Here But Failed to Survive

Struck in the back of the head by a swinging log while working in the Shawigan Lake Logging Company's camp on the west side of Shawigan Lake, Sutt Albertson died yesterday afternoon as a result of his injuries.

Albertson was unhooking logs at the spar tree in the woods camp of the logging company at the time he was injured. An incoming trunk of logs colliding with other sent one of the timbers hurtling in the man's direction.

His back was turned, and the log sent him reeling, to crash upon his face unconscious.

Men rushed to the injured man. He was lifted gently and carried to the lake's edge whence he was conveyed to the mill office and placed in the manager's automobile. W. H. Munroe, mill manager, himself drove Albertson to Victoria.

HOPESLESS CASE

Although Mr. Munroe lost no time in his trip here from the lake mill, Albertson's condition was hopeless from the time he arrived at hospital. Dr. F. M. Bryant attended him, but an emergency operation failed to save the man's life.

The logger died at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The funeral will be held at the Thomson Funeral Parlors at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. Provincial Police announced to-day.

TWO PRINCES ARE TO VISIT CANADA

Prince of Wales to be Accompanied by Prince George Next August

Prince George crossed Canada last winter while on leave from a ship of the navy in Chinese waters.

Brigadier-General G. F. Trotter will be secretary to the Prince of Wales. General Trotter has accompanied the Prince on several of his recent trips. A. F. Lascelles will be on the staff in the capacity of secretary. In all there will be eleven in the party.

Premier Baldwin's party will travel with the Prince part of the tour. There will be eight in the Premier's entourage, including Mrs. Baldwin and her married daughter and her husband.

Plans are still in the formative stage, but the complete programme is expected to be announced before long.

FILM STARS DISAPPOINT MOVIE FANS

Wilma Banky and Rod La Roque Did Not Disembark Here on Honeymoon Trip

The crowd of movie fans who gathered at the C.P.R. wharf to-day on the arrival of the Seattle boat in the expectancy of seeing Wilma Banky and Rod La Roque, film stars on their honeymoon, were sadly disappointed.

Although the beautiful Hungarian actress and her debonair husband were on the boat they failed to appear and a Times reporter who attempted to interview them was told by officials that Mrs. La Roque was sleeping and that the screen hero was not to be seen, although there was a possibility that he would later leave the boat "to do a little shopping."

After waiting in vain for about a quarter of an hour, the assembled movie fans who had gathered in the hope of seeing a "close-up" of the stars of the silver screen gradually melted away, comforting themselves with reminiscence of the time when Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks came to Victoria for a brief visit, and were acclaimed by eager thousands.

According to passengers on the boat, the movie stars were much in evidence on the trip over from Seattle, although from the little interest displayed it was evident that their identity was unknown to most of the passengers.

Wilma Banky was described as even more beautiful than her pictures, a striking blonde, wearing a magnificent coat of beige anserkin. Rod La Roque was handsome and debonair in a tweed coat and light grey felt hat.

The two stars were married at Los Angeles on Sunday when the actress's bridesmaids included such notables of filmdom as Mrs. Sammel Goldwyn, Monique La Rocque, Constance Talmadge, Mrs. Harold Lloyd, Bebe Daniels and Diana Kane. La Roque's best man was Cecil B. De Mille, and his ushers Donald Crisp, George Fitzmaurice, Ronald Colman, Victor Varconi, Jack Holt and Harold Lloyd.

They are en route for Lake Louise and other Rocky Mountain resorts, where they will spend a two weeks' honeymoon.

SCORES OF FLOATS WILL JOIN PARADE

Indications That More Than Hundred Will Take Part Friday

The Confederation celebration parade here, will be the greatest parade Victoria has ever seen.

Arthur Manson, newly named parade marshal, stated this morning that at least a hundred and twenty-five beautiful floats were expected to join the procession.

On Friday morning the whole area of streets bounded by Fernwood Road, Pandora Avenue, Fort and Vancouver Streets, will be closed to ordinary traffic and reserved for these floats, and the other features which go to make up the giant parade.

Orders for floats going up Pandora Avenue have been posted at parade headquarters. These are requested to stop at the Cook Street intersection for final instructions, and to proceed accordingly. All floats going up Fort Street to join the parade are asked, on the other hand, to stop at Fernwood Road to receive orders. The historical pageant floats will proceed up Fort Street to Ormond Avenue and take their places as posted. The special horse section will proceed up Fort, along Cook and to Yates. All parade entries are requested to be on hand, and at their places by 1:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon, for judging will commence immediately.

AIRMEN SET PACIFIC RECORD WHILE PLANE BRIDGING ATLANTIC

Monoplane Which Left Oakland, California, Carrying Two Men, Arrived at Field on Maui Island in Hawaiian Group After Twenty-five Hours and Fifty Minutes in Air; Tri-motored Monoplane Carrying Commander R. E. Byrd and Three Companions Bound From New York to France Making Good Time When Last Reported at 1.12 p.m. Victoria Time

Halifax, June 29.—At 18.50, Greenwich mean time, Commander Byrd, New York-France aeroplane, was approaching St. Pierre Island, off the Newfoundland coast, according to cross-bearings established by Canadian Government wireless stations and reported here.

Louisburg, N.S., June 29.—The monoplane America, bound from New York to France on a non-stop flight, left the coast of Nova Scotia at 1:30 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time this afternoon (9.30 a.m. Victoria time) and headed out to sea for Newfoundland. Commander Byrd flew his machine directly over the town at a comparatively low altitude.

There was no fog off the coast.

Halifax, June 29.—Commander Richard E. Byrd in his monoplane America covered the length of Nova Scotia to-day on his non-stop flight to Paris in three hours and thirty minutes, bettering Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's time of a month earlier by one hour and five minutes.

The America arrived off the coast of Nova Scotia at 10 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time, and left the northeastern tip of the province at 1:30 p.m. Chamberlain's time in the monoplane Columbia was much slower than that of either the Spirit of St. Louis or the America.

MEET HEAD WINDS
Roosevelt Field, New York, June 29.—Commander Richard E. Byrd witnessed the following message to the Transoceanic Company at 5:12 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time (1:12 p.m. Victoria time) to-day.

"Crew in good condition. Head winds are bothering us. Cape Race is a hundred years. In many parts of the province we are being blown back."

MANITOBA BEER VOTE BALLOTS COUNTED

Not Clear Yet Whether Province Will Have Sale by the Glass

Winnipeg, June 29.—Manitoba to-day was held in suspense as to the system under which beer will be sold during the tenure of the Bracken Government. Yesterday the people of the province were asked to declare their desires on the beer question, with beer by the glass in licensed government establishments offered as an alternative to beer by the bottle, sold to permit-holders either direct or by the brewers or by the Liquor Control Commission.

Consistent with its previous stand, Winnipeg voted overwhelmingly "wet" and in favor of the beer parlors, a majority of approximately 8,500 being piled up.

LEAD CUT DOWN

When the country vote started dribbling in, Winnipeg's "beer by the glass" lead was gradually cut down, and to-day all indications pointed to the possibility of the margin being completely wiped out.

Returns late this afternoon from country points showed advocates of beer by the bottle with a majority of around 1,500. The lead, however, was the result of only about 200 polls out of a total of 815, and it is believed in some quarters that the traditionally "dry" rural population may even vote against any extension of the present facilities for the sale of beer.

BEER BALLOT

The questions on the ballots on which the people voted yesterday were as follows:

"1. Do you favor any extension of the present facilities for the sale of beer?"

"2. If a majority answer 'Yes' to question No. 1, which do you prefer: (a) Beer by the glass, sale to be under government regulations—in licensed premises without bars; (b) Beer by the bottle, sale in sealed containers by the Liquor Commission in government stores, under the cash-and-carry system?"

"3. Are you in favor of abolishing the right of the brewers to sell beer direct to permit holders?"

THOUSANDS SAW ECLIPSE OF THE SUN

Fair Weather Gave Observers in England the Desired Opportunity

Giggleswick, Yorkshire, Eng., June 29.—Tens of thousands of awed spectators in the totality belt of the solar eclipse this morning saw a magnificent sight, such as had not been witnessed in Great Britain in more than a hundred years. In many parts of the totality zone—the counties of Cheshire, Lancashire and Yorkshire, and Durham—the spectacle was more or less marred by mists and fleeting clouds, but it was observed in perfection here at Giggleswick, where a large crowd was assembled and where astronomical watchers made what were the best observations they have ever been able to take.

SUN AND CLOUD RACE

The thrilling scene occurred after a tense race between the sun and clouds and when the totality period came it was watched with feelings impossible to describe. The light became a weird greyish brown, the atmosphere grew colder, a wind swept over the moors. The people, who had been singing light-heartedly, suddenly were struck with awe. Soon theondrous corona appeared for its fleeting life of unparalleled splendor to crown the solemn spectacle. After seconds which seemed minutes a thin crescent of sun emerged from behind the moon's cover and the pent-up feelings of observers, who had been literally holding their breath at this manifestation of nature's wonders, were relieved.

RAIN FELL

The observers thanked their stars at the lucky escape from disappointment, for immediately the phenomenon was over, clouds gathered again and rain began to fall.

The spectators, after the last shadow had vanished at 7.23, gave vent to their feelings in the customary way, for upon row of people on the bleak slopes of the hills hereabouts suddenly broke out in song.

Ottawa-Montreal Flight is Made by Governor-General

Montreal, June 29.—Having flown here from Ottawa, Lord and Lady Willington arrived at Maisonneuve, Montreal, at 10:45 a.m. this morning. Two planes made the flight, in command of Group Captain J. S. Scott, director of the Royal Canadian Air Force, who piloted the Governor-General's party's plane, and Wing Commander Gordon, who piloted the escort plane.

Wheeler Field, Island of Maui, Hawaii, June 29.—First to make the 2,400-mile flight between San Francisco and Honolulu, Lieut. Lester J. Maitland and Lieut. Albert Hegenberger, United States army fliers, arrived here at 6.29 a.m. to-day in their Fokker monoplane.

The fliers, who left Oakland, California at 7.09 a.m. yesterday, finished their transpacific flight in twenty-five hours and fifty minutes. They had expected to make it in about twenty-four hours.

In journeying 2,400 miles, Maitland and Hegenberger completed longest transoceanic aeroplane flight ever accomplished.

The landing was made on a rain-soaked field. The huge plane taxied the entire length of the field, then, circling, it came back to the front of the review stand, where the highest army, navy and civic authorities in the Hawaiian Islands were waiting to extend congratulations to the two fliers. The crowd gave an intensely enthusiastic reception to the men. Guns of the fortresses here thundered in salute as the plane stopped before the reviewing stand.

ONE-DAY LINK

Thus it fell to the lot of the army to bring the Hawaiian Islands within one day of the Mainland of the United States. The fastest steamships traverse the broad waters of the Pacific, in which no land intervenes, in from five and a half to six days.

Maitland and Hegenberger, by their successful flight, supplemented the work begun August 31, 1925, by men of the United States navy. On that date three planes of the navy made the first attempt to cross the Pacific from San Francisco to Hawaii. One plane failed to rise, another fell into the sea 300 miles off shore, and the third, containing Commander John Rodgers and three other men, came down some 300 miles short of their destination. For nine days they drifted with the sea-plane and were picked up when hope had been almost abandoned.

ADVANCE SHOWN
The flight ended to-day exemplified the advance which aviation has made. Whereas the navy had found it essential to place a line of warships reaching from the California shore to the Hawaiian Islands, at 200-mile intervals the army men flew without such support, and in a land plane that would have floated only two to three hours. They had, however, a life raft.

VANCOUVER CELEBRATION

Vancouver, June 29.—Mayor Louis D. Taylor has received word from Portland, Ore., that there will be a float representing Portland in the Vancouver Dominion Day parade.

SHINGLE MEN OF B.C. TO ADVERTISE

Manufacturers Band Together to Extend Market on This Continent

Vancouver, June 29.—Rejuvenation of the British Columbia shingle industry is promised by a new modern advertising and merchandising campaign launched by a majority of dealers banded under the Consolidated Shingle Mills of British Columbia, which will raise an advertising fund of at least $75,000 during the coming twelve months as part of a three-year campaign to popularize British Columbia edge-grain shingles in the United States and Canada.

Morgan Eastman, advertising man, told shingle men at a meeting here last night that just as they, by passive non-resistance, had literally borne the cost of the present roofing advertising campaign, so those mills which in the coming three years did not participate in the forthcoming drive to sell a standard trade marked shingle, "Edge-wood," would pay for the cost of the Consolidated Mills campaign.

Mr. Eastman said creation of a proper shingle market would be like bringing in an industry with a payroll of from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000 into the Province.

STUDENT AVIATOR HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Curtis Field, N.Y., June 29.—Ramiro Soza, a young student pilot, established his own air record yesterday, escaping with his life in the process. The record was the speedy sale of an aeroplane. Headless of high winds, which challenged the skill of more expert pilots, Soza, who was said to have had a total of only three hours of flying since he began to study aviation, made a brief flight in his own plane, a "war-time" model. In trying to make a turn at a height of several hundred feet, the machine crashed. Soza was not injured. Crawling from the wreckage, he stumbled on a purchaser of aeroplane motors, to whom he promptly sold his "bun" for $20.

LINDBERGH PLANS AIR TOUR OF THE U.S.

New York-Paris Aviator Soon to Visit Many Cities in Aeroplane

New York, June 29.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will make an aeroplane tour of the United States, the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics, under whose auspices the tour will be made, announced.

Col. Lindbergh will fly monoplane The Spirit of St. Louis, in which he made the New York-to-Paris flight. He will start in about three weeks to cover the entire country.

It is expected the nation-wide flight will take two or three months, during which Col. Lindbergh will visit most of the principal cities in the United States. The entire undertaking will be financed by the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics.

Railway Workers Given Wage Increase

Montreal, June 29.—An important announcement providing increased rates of pay to clerks, freight handlers, stationery engineers, stationary firemen, station stores and shop laborers, is made in a notice from the office of Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways. The increases in rates, the circular states, will be effective from May 1.

HANDEL FUNERAL TO BE HELD IN OTTAWA

Scientist For Years Served Canada as Director of Mines

Ottawa, June 29.—The funeral of the late Dr. Eugene F. R. Haanel is to be held here this afternoon.

Dr. Haanel, who died here on Sunday at the age of eighty-six, was for twenty years superintendent and director of the Federal Department of Mines. He was internationally famous and held a number of academic degrees from Canadian and United States universities.

He was born in Germany, was educated in that country and went to the United States as a young man. He served in the federal army as first lieutenant during the Civil War and married Miss Julia F. Darling, daughter of Senator Darling of Michigan.

CAME TO CANADA IN 1901

Dr. Haanel came to Canada in 1901 from the United States at the request of the Canadian Government and accepted the position of superintendent of mines in the Department of the Interior. Six years later he was instrumental in creating a Canadian Department of Mines and was director until his retirement in 1920 owing to ill-health and blindness. During his term he established an assay office at Vancouver and created twenty government laboratories. His pioneer work in connection with the electric smelting of iron ores earned him international recognition, as did his invention of a double furnace for the reduction of iron ores, which is to-day used extensively throughout the world.

Dr. Haanel was the author of a vast number of reports and monographs dealing with scientific subjects. He is survived by two sons and four daughters, B. F. Haanel, Ottawa, and Henry Haanel, New York; Miss Florence Haanel and Mrs. Dr. C. T. Bowles, Ottawa; Mrs. Frank A. Cassidy, Vancouver, B.C., and Mrs. Graham R. Fedan, Edmonton, Alta.

There are 2,130,000 licensed radio listeners in England; 1,371,122 in Germany, 238,000 in Sweden and 114,492 in Denmark.

$10,330 SUIT IS HEARD IN VANCOUVER

Mrs. MacGill, Juvenile Court Judge, Asks Award

Vancouver, June 29.—For injuries sustained on June 1, 1926, when she was struck by an automobile at the intersection of Robson and Thurlow streets, Mrs. Helen Gregory MacGill, juvenile court judge here, is claiming $10,330 damages from Miss Theresa Holmes and Thomas Gilbert Starnes. The trial is in progress in the Supreme Court before Chief Justice Hunter. Dugald Donaghy and J. H. MacGill, husband of the plaintiff, are her counsel, and G. E. Houser is appearing for the defendants.

Starnes was driver of the automobile, it is alleged, and Miss Holmes, the owner, was a passenger, it is said. Medical testimony showed the plaintiff's face, head, hands, right leg, left collarbone and back were injured. The defendants plead that Mrs. MacGill was guilty of contributory negligence.

Aberdeen Plywood Plant to be Large

Aberdeen, Wash., June 29.—Installation of machinery in the new $300,000 plant of the Aberdeen Plywood Company is being rushed with the hope that the factory may be put in operation on August 1. Gust Starn, president of the corporation, said to-day. The plant will be one of the largest of its kind in the world and will have many improvements never before incorporated in a similar factory.

All of the heavy machinery will be in place by July 20, Mr. Starn said. The huge driers are already in place and the first of the two large lathes or "peelers" will arrive next week. The second lathe will arrive about July 15 and will require about five days for installation, according to the company officials.

The plant at the outset will manufacture a high grade of fir plywood, according to present plans. Company officials are also considering the installation of special equipment for the manufacture of hardwood veneers. It is expected that the plant for that development will be started as soon as the main factory is in operation.

The new plant will be a model of efficiency, it is claimed. The logs will be taken directly from the water by a huge hoist and placed in the steaming rooms. Starting from the water side of the huge structure as logs, the wood will come out the other end of the plant as finished plywood, cut and ready for shipment.

NOW THE PACIFIC

FROM CALIFORNIA TO HONOLULU—
2,400 miles—in just twenty-five hours and fifty minutes without a stop in a United States army monoplane flown by Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland and Lieutenant Albert Hegenberger! This is the latest achievement in the air and it sets a new mark as the longest over-water flight ever carried out in one uninterrupted hop.

In spite of the fact that this also was a sporting event, since the machine could not have carried any more weight in the shape of passengers or freight as well as sufficient fuel for its engines, it is another important step towards that development in aerial navigation which will see regular services established for both trans-Pacific and trans-Atlantic routes. It furnishes still further evidence that aeroplane manufacturers, and particularly engine designers, are turning out work about as near perfection as it could well be. It now remains for them to continue their experiments with a heavier-than-air machine that can be flown far enough without having to descend and, of course, capable of carrying a sufficient number of passengers that will reduce the business to a successful economic basis.

There is no earthly reason to suppose that this objective will not be reached. It is less than twenty years since Blériot first flew across the English Channel and amazed the world. Over that same route now fly great passenger liners equipped with moving picture screens, smoking and sleeping cabins, and about every other sort of convenience and comfort that may be associated with travel. If that much has been accomplished in such a comparatively short time, why, now that both Atlantic and Pacific Oceans have been so successfully negotiated, should the day be far distant when the greater expanse of water will be crossed with equal assurance of safety?

MAINLY AS YOU WERE

WITH RETURNS INCOMPLETE AT
this writing it looks as if the Bracken Government in Manitoba will meet the eighteenth Legislature with more than the same number of followers, it had before dissolution. Eighteen constituencies have elected the Administration's candidate and in at least ten others he is leading. If these latter win, the Premier will preserve his majority over all other parties in the House, there being fifty-five seats to fill and he having probably thirty of them.

While the Government's following apparently will undergo no alteration, the distribution of seats among the other parties reveals a change of heart on the part of the electorate. In the last Legislature there were seven Liberals and six Conservatives; but latest returns concede four Liberals elected, with one leading, seven Conservatives elected and six leading. It will be seen, however, that although the Liberals may lose two seats, the gains made by the Conservative Party largely have been at the expense of the Independents and Laborites, these two parties dividing three seats between them—Labor two and Independent one—as compared with twelve in the last Legislature, eight Independents and four Laborites.

Early reports indicated that the fight between the urban and rural voters on the subject of beer had been won by the latter and that no change would take place; but later returns suggest that the cities' demand for beer by the glass will be satisfied. It is only in this regard, however, that the elections which took place yesterday have disturbed the situation which existed before the people went to the polls. Mr. Bracken's position may not be as secure as it was; yet it is almost certain that with eight seats distributed between Liberals, Labor and Independents he will have little to worry about in any assault which his Conservative Opposition may choose to launch.

WHEN CANADA REACHED TO LOUISIANA

THOSE WHO HAVE STUDIED BOTANY
may have noticed certain plants described as "Canadensis" or "Canadense" which are not found now in Canada at all. This is explained by the fact that when botanical terminology was fixed, Canada included practically all the territory east of the Mississippi down as far as Louisiana. Both before and since Confederation the territorial boundaries of Canada have experienced remarkable changes, and there is no more fascinating phase of the evolution of Canada from a colony into the present vast self-governing Dominion than the history of that invisible border-line within which is enclosed the territorial heritage of the Canadian people.

As a contribution to the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation, therefore, a brochure dealing with this aspect of Canadian history which has been issued by the Bank of Montreal should be both timely and welcome to students, and to the general public. With much of this history the bank is itself directly associated, for it was founded when Canada territorially centred solely around the St. Lawrence system, and rivers formed its chief highways. In those days railways and ocean steamships were unknown, and the Bank itself provided the colony's first organized system of finance and its first domestic currency.

"The Birth and Growth of Canada" is the title of the booklet. The story begins in the fourteenth century, when, after Spain had claimed parts of North and South America, the French and British came to claim their share in the vast new world which till then had been hidden from the knowledge of the peoples of western civilization. The explorations, colonizations and conflicts of these two great nations as affecting the spheres of influence of both on this continent are sketched, from the time when the representatives of each roamed at will in the mysterious unknown of a country whose limits neither knew, until the interest of each was centered in a portion which became crystallized under the name of Canada. The latter, as has been mentioned, reached westward to the centre of the continent and southward to Louisiana. For this prize the two great nations ultimately became locked in deadly conflict, and to the daring adventurers and heroic pioneers of both, the new nation, which now claims as its homeland practically the whole of the northern half of this continent, owes its heritage. This fact is recognized in the booklet by two chapters headed respectively "Our Heritage from France" and "Our Heritage from Britain."

How, from the vast territory originally claimed, Canada shrank to a small colony in the St. Lawrence Valley, and then expanded east and west and north into a unit larger than the original, is a story that is told graphically and succinctly in the booklet, and each stage in the process of Canada's changing borderline is illustrated by maps that form an interesting and valuable series.

Summing up the territorial heritage of Canadians, the booklet says, "rich in every form of material wealth, in fertile soil, in minerals, in forest, fish and fur, in water-power and coal, in railways, roadways and waterways, it is rich above all in the quality of its human population, drawn chiefly from the kindred stocks of Britain and of France. It is a land peculiarly fitted by its bracing northern climate to breed one of the strongest races in the human family. Already the energy of its nine and a half millions, a handful of humanity spread over so vast an expanse, has lifted Canada to third place among the exporting nations of the world. With the great human reinforcements which may now confidently be expected, the Canadian people look forward to a growth and prosperity far exceeding the wonderful progress of these sixty years."

THE REV. JOSEPH MCCOY

IN THE DEATH OF THE REV. JOSEPH
McCoy the ministry of this city has lost a prominent and faithful member. For nearly a quarter of a century he had been associated with the Presbyterian Church here and for a number of years prior to coming to the Island he had ministered in other parts of British Columbia.

The late Mr. McCoy had endeared himself to a very wide circle of friends in Victoria apart from those with whom he worshipped regularly; and although he had reached the age of eighty-four, he was active and cheerful until a few months ago when illness afflicted him.

Good work for the advancement of the community found in Mr. McCoy a warm supporter, and all with whom he came in contact realized the worth of his genial disposition and his cheerful counsel. His colleagues in the ministry will miss him and join in the widespread sympathy which will be extended to his widow and bereaved family. In these The Times sincerely joins.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

"HOW TO BOX"
From The Toronto Star
Gene Tunney has written a book on "How to Box," but curiously enough there are a lot of people who still think that if he meets Dempsey again all the knowledge his book discloses will not be of much use to him.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL
From The Toronto Globe

The Royal Commission on Customs has discovered that a large quantity of alcohol stored in Montreal and intended for anti-freeze vanished suddenly. It should be easy to blame this on the weather. Perhaps there was a sudden cold spell and it was needed, or there was a sudden hot spell, and it evaporated.

REJOICE WITH CANADA
From The Portland Oregonian

The United States will rejoice with Canada in celebration of Dominion Day three days before our own Independence Day, because the two nations have grown together as neighbors and have worked together in developing the North American continent. Americans have cause for pride that Canada has become a nation in the fact that this republic supplied the germ-idea from which the Canadian nation has grown—the federal system, which combines the power and strength of the nation with the freedom of the states and which affords scope for orderly expansion by addition of new members to the union.

A THOUGHT

Do You Mean What You Say?

NIMROD

The term "Nimrod" is applied generally to hunters, and particularly to those who excel at the sport. The original "Nimrod" was the founder of the Babylonian monarchy, and is described in the book of Genesis as a "mighty hunter before the Lord." It is believed that the reference is to his ability in battle and conquest, as well as to the chase.

THE CONFEDERATION TABLE

Q—Where is the Confederation Table?
A—The table used by the Fathers of Confederation at the Quebec Conference of 1864, has traveled far and wide since that time, and was for a long period lost sight of. It now stands however, in the member's reading room in the Legislative building of Saskatchewan. Regina, and bears an inscription telling its story. The logical place for it would seem to be the Houses of Parliament at Ottawa.

JOYS FROM GEOGRAPHY

MOCCASIN BEND, in the Tennessee River, at Chattanooga, Tennessee, is one of the most famous scenic points in eastern United States. The view from Lookout Mountain reveals not only the celebrated curve in the stream, but also a panorama of historical interest. In this region many decisive battles of the Civil War were fought.

When it was determined to erect Parliament Buildings in the new capital city of Ottawa and the well-known building which was totally destroyed by fire in 1918, was erected at that time. This building, which was of the then prevailing type of architecture known as Victorian Gothic, was much admired by the general public, and its architectural ensemble and colorful stone-work, were not so lenient and with a security in its predecessor. Another notable difference is the perfect heating, ventilating and lighting system, telephones and other communicating systems made possible by electric power which was not available sixty years ago.

A very marked advance considering the period under consideration is that the principal Universities of Canada have added architectural courses to their curriculum. In this period also six of the provinces have established Architectural Associations, and in five of the Provinces membership in the association is required before one is permitted to practice architecture. These associations, and the Royal Institute of Architects, and in five of the Provinces membership in the association is required before one is permitted to practice architecture. These associations, and the Royal Institute of Architects, and in five of the Provinces membership in the association is required before one is permitted to practice architecture.

The influence of the enormous amount of building carried on in the United States during this period has been an immense educational influence in Canada and latterly, architectural students have been starting in to practice at home. The result of all this is that the architectural work in Canada to-day is comparable on a footing with modern work anywhere. This is exemplified in that the Royal Institute of British Architects conferred their gold medal upon the late Mr. Francis Darling, and the American Institute of Architects, at their exhibition in 1924, awarded Messrs. Sprout and Ralph of Toronto the first prize for their House, Toronto, as a college building. The number of Canadian architects who have been honored and been made fellows of the Royal Institute of British Architects, and the number of architects practicing in Canada whom the Royal Institute of British Architects consider worthy of their recognition.

JOINT OUTING OF SAANICH SCHOOLS
Annual Picnic at Experimental Farm Proves Great Success
North Saanich, June 29.—The North Saanich School held its Diamond Jubilee Confederation celebration and annual school picnic at the Experimental Farm on Saturday afternoon. The teachers and pupils with the parents and friends attending.

A bountiful picnic lunch was spread by Mrs. Coleman, who led the children in the singing of "O Canada." The parents and pupils with the parents and friends attending.

After lunch, the ceremony was opened by the singing of "O Canada," followed by the planting of an elm tree, procured by the forethought of Mr. Straight. After the latter had made all preparations, the teachers each threw a spadeful of earth, to indicate that the tree was planted by the school in commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation.

Mr. A. McDonald, chairman of the North Saanich School Board, and Mr. Straight, each spoke a few appropriate words on the significance of the tree in Canadian life and thought. This impressive ceremony ended with the singing of the "Maple Leaf Forever." The parents and children then moved to the cairn, where Miss Catherine Hayward, a pupil of the North Saanich School, gave an interesting talk on the importance of, and the need for Confederation. Colonel Peck, M.P.P., then addressed those present, stressing the growth of Canada in all respects since Confederation took place, and then distributed the Jubilee medals. Nests Carter, another pupil of the school, then gave a reading on the "Fathers of Confederation," touching on the important leaders of the movement.

Dr. Coleman, Dean of Arts and Sciences of the University of British Columbia, next dealt informally with the topic of the day, and then, in his usual delightfully charming manner, presented the honor rolls to the pupils of the Saanich Schools of honor for Division I were presented to Catherine Hayward for proficiency; to Nests Carter for deportment; and to Annie Olsen for regularity. Peck for proficiency; Frisella Towers for deportment; and George Lennox, Edith Readings, Joan Stirling and Peter Ricketts for regularity. In Division III, rolls of honor were presented to Joyce Lennox for proficiency; Toamie Tassi for deportment; and to Jessie Stirling for regularity.

ESQUIMALT MEMORIAL

To the Editor:—Will you allow me to express my disapproval of the attempt that is being made to treat the park in Esquimalt as a war memorial. In memory of my fallen comrades.

ESQUIMALT CELEBRATIONS

To the Editor:—May I have a little of your space to make a few remarks re the above. In Tuesday night's Times an article appears, which to the ordinary individual is rather confusing. I am referring to the park ceremony, and one reads that "Bluejackets and khaki-clad trumpeters will sound the Last Post under the flag that floats from the staff." Also, it appears that there will be what is no more or less than a memorial service at what is, simply, a joyous celebration. There are to be prayers, hymns, singing of the Last Post and a one-minute silence. That part is clear, but one naturally is inclined to ask, "Which is the war memorial?" The park or the monument that is unfinished? The park is a municipal affair, provided out of taxes by the council, but the memorial is being paid for by public subscription, and one cannot understand the motive, if any, for confusing the two. If, as one would gather, they are both memorials, why have half of it done now, as I understand that the memorial will be finished in the near future. It is obvious that the flagstaff cannot be used or any part of the memorial proper. There appears to have been an error made in the arrangements, which could be rectified to suit all parties concerned.

ALD. MARA OPPOSES PICTURE BY-LAW

Citizens Will Vote on Project Thursday, July 14

Victoria ratepayers will vote on the Fleming motion picture by-law on July 14. The City Council yesterday afternoon, passed on the by-law in its revised and amended form. Alderman L. Mara was the only opponent.

Alderman Mara charged Mayor J. C. Fleming with a sudden change of opinion in the matter of the by-law, and asserting that the council had not taken proper steps to prove the creditability of the Cinema Franchise, who is advancing the motion picture industry scheme. The council was dabbling in a very speculative business, something it had no right to do, he said. He referred to the attitude of his fellow aldermen as unbusinesslike.

CHILDISH ATTITUDE

Alderman H. Cuthbert Holmes was first on his feet to support the by-law, following Alderman's Mara's attack upon it. Mr. Fleming came to Victoria from Australia with a proposition, he said, in which he was going to endeavor to interest British capital. If the security was offered the British investors were sufficient to bring $400,000 into Mr. Fleming's project, Mr. Holmes thought it reasonable to expect that Alderman should have little criticism to offer if the city stood up and guaranteed half this sum. As for credentials, Alderman Holmes asserted that Mr. Fleming was recommended by 20 other than the Premier of Australia, and by the Lord Mayors of Sydney and Melbourne. That should be sufficient recommendation for any man, he suggested. The attitude which Alderman Mara was taking, he said, was childish, he considered.

Alderman Mara replied that Alderman Holmes was the one who was childish in his reasoning. He asked the Mayor, as a business man, if he would consider giving a customer credit for $200,000 without first carefully considering his credentials and security, no matter how high were his recommendations. He put the same question to Alderman Holmes.

FOLLOW THE LEADER

Alderman H. O. Litchfield added his voice to the chorus of Alderman Holmes. In his opinion, he said, Alderman Mara was taking the wrong attitude altogether. The council could not be expected to know every man who came before it with business propositions, to know his records and his connections, and he did not like to attempt to destroy a man's character by a misdeed. If Mr. Fleming had made a misdeed when he said he could secure $400,000 of British capital for investment in the Victoria motion picture project, they would soon discover it, said Alderman Litchfield. He did not like to see cold water thrown on any scheme, he added.

"Let him have the opportunity to show what he can do," he urged. Alderman Litchfield added that he fully expected to wake up some morning and find that Victoria possessed a motion picture industry which was thriving and remunerative to its investors. He believed the city had a future in this direction, he asserted.

BIG OPPORTUNITY

Alderman John Harvey said there was always a certain element of speculation in things of the kind. But the present project seemed to be an opportunity for which they had long been looking. If Mr. Fleming came back to Victoria with the British dollars he expected, everything would be alright. Besides, the alderman declared, more people wanted the motion picture industry here than wanted the cold storage plant.

Mayor Penderay added that if the credentials of Mr. Fleming were satisfactory and the proposition sound, the city should accept them. If there were a doubt, they should be dropped, he said.

The council rushed through the reading of the amended portions of the by-law and passed it without delay. The date of the referendum was set for Thursday, July 14, and M. F. Hunter named as returning officer.

ALBERT HEAD SCHOOL CLOSING EXERCISES

Jubilee Medals and Prizes Presented to Scholars

The closing exercises of the Albert Head School took place at the schoolhouse on Friday afternoon and partook of a patriotic nature. The classroom was gaily decorated with choice blooms. An exhibit of basketwork, bird and health posters and an entire village set (all work of the Junior grades) were greatly admired by the parents and the many friends who gathered as guests for the occasion.

The programme opened with the singing of "O Canada" in unison, followed by Pauline Johnson's patriotic selection "Canadian Born," given spiritedly by Jessie Hamilton-Jones. A demonstration reading lesson followed, given by Grade 1. Bliss Carman's already famous selection, "Victoria, B.C.," was recited by Peggy Higgs. Judge Cumberland, speaker of the afternoon, was then introduced to parents and pupils by the teacher, Miss Alice Smith. His Honor expressed his pleasure on being able to address a gathering of school children and parents on a matter of such vital importance as "Canada and Confederation," and the celebration of our great Dominion Day. He expressed it a coincidence that June 24 was another birthday of Canada, it being June 24, 1497, that Cabot reached the mainland of North America.

His Honor sketched the difficulties that lay in the path of Confederation, the obstacles of the time, the triumph of Confederation in 1867 when the first four provinces joined the union, followed by the other provinces at later dates. His explanation was so clear that even the smallest listener was able to grasp the import of the great celebration pending. His Honor, ended by expressing the hope that each and everyone would always be proud of their great homeland, Canada, and of the great British Empire to which they belonged. Calling each child forward Judge Cumberland gave the Jubilee medals presented by the Dominion Government to every child in Canada. The rolls of honor were then distributed and the certificates of promotion. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Judge Cumberland for his very instructive address by Mr. Gray and seconded by Mrs. McMillaine.

A favorite selection by Drummond, "Little Balesse," was rendered feelingly by David Brotherton and a recitation by Arthur Deveson, "In Fervent Praise of Pienica."

Mr. Gray, a Canadian pioneer of the district, hearing of the distribution of medals, visited the school with Mrs. Gray and brought with him an original bronze medal, the only one in existence in British Columbia, which belonged to his father, J. H. Gray, one of the "Fathers of Confederation" and the first judge appointed to British Columbia after this Province entered Confederation. Mr. Gray also showed very interesting photos of some of the prominent figures prior to 1867.

The large bronze medal was enthusiastically received by the people of Albert Head, who expressed a wish that a larger audience might have the pleasure of seeing a relic of Confederation times.

The school children then lined up and marched outside, where each child saluted the Union Jack, holding the Canadian flag in their left hand. The singing of "God Save the King" concluded a very enjoyable school programme.

Motor cars then took the school children and party to Whitty's Lagoon, where delicious refreshments were served and the annual school sports voted a huge success.

Rolls of honor were won by Amy Cawley and Sheila Cawley for regularity and punctuality, Hilda Brotherton for deportment and Arthur Deveson for proficiency. A special prize for reading and English literature was won by Peggy Higgs. The list of promotions is as follows:

To Grade 1 Sr.—Frank Spencer, Sheila Cawley and Stella Pennington.

To Grade 2—James Saltmarsh.

To Grade 7—Peter Brotherton.

Langford

Langford, June 28.—A very successful strawberry social was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Goucher yesterday, when many friends from Victoria, Colwood and Langford were present.

The graceful and artistic dancing on the lawn by the Laidlaw, Laird, Vera Holmes, Pearl Christolm and Irene Holmes, all pupils of Miss Florence Clough of Prior Street, Victoria, was greatly enjoyed, their dances in costume being the French minuet, Nola, Ambrise and "In Shadow Land." Vocal solos were charmingly rendered by Mrs. E. F. Gould of Victoria, Mrs. A. Smith of Victoria was the "party of mystery" and had many listeners. A lucky basket dip, full of delightful surprises, was in the care of Charlie Lang.

MANY GUESTS AT SMART WEDDING AT CATHEDRAL TO-DAY

Miss Mabel Rhodes and Francis M. Sterry United by Bishop of Columbia

Masses of Summer blossoms in the pastel shades of pink, blue and mauve made a charming background for the ceremony in Christ Church Cathedral at noon to-day which united in marriage Mabel, daughter of Mrs. Chas. W. Rhodes of Colma Cottage, Terrace Avenue, to Francis Middleton Sterry, second son of the late Francis Sterry, and Mrs. Sterry of Barnstable, Devonshire, England. The bride, a popular graduate of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, of which institution Mrs. Rhodes is a member of the board of directors and also president of the Women's Auxiliary.

Pink froglives, blue delphinium and mauve valerian with gypsophylla were used in the decoration of the chancel and on the guest pews, while similar flowers were introduced into the archway composed largely of cutbush roses, under which the bride party stood during the ceremony. The charming floral decorations were the handiwork of Mrs. Harry Ross, Mrs. Walter Burton and other friends of the bride.

Right Rev. C. de V. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Wm. Carroll of Cedar Hill. The service was fully choral.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. R. Chesyre Janion of Vancouver, the bride wore a picture gown of ivory tulle which suited her blonde beauty to perfection. The long bouffant skirt hung in soft folds from the slender long-waisted bodice, with its mousetail sleeves and collar of lovely old Duchesse lace. In lieu of a train, the exquisite veil of net and Duchesse lace, worn by her mother on her wedding day, fell from beneath a circlet of orange blossoms in snowy folds. A bouquet of lilies of the valley and Ophelia roses completed the bride's toilette.

Miss Ethel Rhodes, sister of the bride, was the only bridesmaid, prettily gowned in pink georgette over orchid, with large hat of bois de rose mohair edged with ruched velvet of the same shade and trimmed with a cabochon of mixed French flowers. Her bouquet was of roses and mauve sweet peas, tied with the Cartusian colors, in compliment to the bridegroom who was a former student at Charterhouse School, Surrey.

Little Miss Anne Williamson of Montreal was the flower girl, daintily in a frock of white net and lace over flesh-pink, with hat of white lace, and carrying a basket of pink and mauve flowers. Little Miss Mary Vi Watson of Dunelm, in an orchid dress veiled with tulle, and wearing a wreath of tiny French flowers in her hair, with Master Richard Henry (minor) Ferris of Seattle, in a white sailor suit, acted as trainbearer.

Capt. Cox of Cowichan Lake supported the bridegroom and the ushers were Mr. R. H. Port and Capt. Mogg. After the ceremony a reception was held at Collier's Cottage, where Mrs. Rhodes, smartly attired in a coat of orchid georgette and marabout over a gown of orchid georgette, and becoming black lace hat, assisted in receiving the guests. The bride and bridegroom received the felicitations of the many guests while standing beneath a canopy of spirea and greenery on the lawn.

In the house, where the buffet luncheon was served, and where the many lovely gifts were on display, the reception rooms were bright with bowls of flowers in shades of blue, pink and mauve.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Sterry left for a motor tour in the States, the bride traveling in a smart check wrap over a frock of printed French flat crepe, with close-fitting hat of golden wheat Bangkok straw, trimmed with black. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Sterry will make their home at Collier's Cottage, pending the completion of their new home in Oak Bay.

Court Triumph A.O.F.—The members of Court Triumph will not meet Friday, July 1. The court's annual picnic will take place July 6, leaving Douglas and Johnson Streets at 2 p.m. for Mount Douglas. At their last regular meeting it was arranged to hold a garden party at the home of Sister A. F. Curtis in August.

Pupils' Recital—An interesting recital was given by a number of Mrs. Ruby Moore's pupils at 3249 Quadra Street on Monday. Prizes were presented by Mrs. Moore to Margaret Hemmer, violin and Margaret Neilgan, piano. Refreshments served on the lawn brought a happy afternoon to its close.

Tuberculosis Veterans' W.A.—The W.A. to the Tuberculosis Veterans will hold its monthly meeting Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the T.V.A. clubroom, Yates and Langley Streets. The report on the convention will be given by Mrs. L. Campbell.

SO-CALLED NATIVE DAUGHTER IS PRETTY BRIDE

Miss Matilda Grant and George S. Way United Last Evening

Last evening at 8 o'clock at the Metropolitan United Church, the marriage of Miss Matilda Matilda 'Tilly' Grant, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Grant, of 1042 St. Charles Street, to Mr. George Standon Way, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Way, of Agnes Street, Marigold, was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Sippell, before a large congregation of relatives and friends.

The bride, who is a native daughter of Victoria, is a descendant of one of the best-known pioneer families, being a grand-daughter of Mrs. Harriet, and of the late Mr. F. Carney. Her many girl friends had decorated the church with a profusion of beautiful flowers, the choir, banked with palms and a lovely arrangement of white and pink carnations with Canterbury bells, snap-dragon, dahlia and pale pink peonies, made a charming picture. Graceful archways of white carnations and fern sprang the right and left aisles by which the bride procession entered and left the church; the pews for the invited guests were prettily designated by sprays of white carnations and fern, tied with white tulle, and masses of spirea were used effectively in the window frames.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was stately in her wedding gown of rose georgette over a silver slip, and daintily embroidered in gold sequins and pearls; the bodice was fashioned with a gracefully draped cape effect, and fashioned in a soft sash and bow at the left side. Her picture hat was of fancy mohair and fawn, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, swansonia and fern, to which had also been added a spray of Scotch heather.

The bride was attended by Miss Margaret F. Stewart and Miss Helen Paget, the former in fuchsia georgette and taffeta in long-waisted design and developed with scalloped skirt and pretty side drap. With this she wore a picture hat in fancy mohair, with silver leaves and a single rose on the brim.

Miss Helen Paget was similarly attired in peach georgette, with which she wore a picture hat with a single rose and a cluster of gold leaves. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of sweet peas in rose and mauve shades, tied with tulle in both colors.

The groom was supported by Mr. Harry Lewis, and the ushers were Mr. Howard Knott and Mr. Ray Parfitt. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by the organist, and during the signing of the register, "All for You" was very effectively sung by Mr. Leon Conyers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1042 St. Charles Street. The rooms were prettily decorated with roses and spirea, and the bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends standing in the drawing room where a pale green lattice, artistically interwoven with roses and greenery, formed a pleasing background. Mrs. Grant, mother of the bride, wearing a becoming costume of black silk crepe, with champagne-colored vestee applied in gold, and wearing a pretty mohair hat of bluish color with flowered crown, received the many guests. She was assisted by Mrs. Wm. Walker, Mrs. D. McLennan, Mrs. A. McConnell, Mrs. J. McConnell, Mrs. H. McIlwaine, Mrs. J. McLennan, and the Misses Betty McLennan, Annie Waterhouse, May McConnell, At the McLennan, Adelle Bond, Ethel Cave, Flora McIlwaine, Hilda Harding, Irene Whitfield and Gladys McLennan.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the vestry of the First United Church on Monday of Miss Marie Marsh, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Marsh of 844 Johnson Street, and Robert E. Grice, of this city. He is the fourth son of the late John Grice, well-known pioneer of this city. Rev. W. O. Wilson officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Irene Woodburn, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bride's present to the matron of honor was a string of fancy beads. The groom was supported by H. S. Carter, who received a handsome pair of initialed cuff links. After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the happy couple left on the afternoon boat for Vancouver. On their return they will make their home in this city. They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts from their many friends.

On June 18 the marriage of two former residents of Victoria was solemnized in Los Angeles. The principals were Miss Marian Simpson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson, and Mr. Harry North, only son of Mrs. M. North. The bride, who was attired in powder blue georgette and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and lily of the valley, was given away by her father. She was attended by her sister, Irene, who was dressed in orchid crepe de Chine, and carried orchid and pink sweet peas. The groom was supported by Mr. Gordon Young, late of Victoria. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served. Mrs. Simpson, gowned in beige georgette, was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. North, who wore tan crepe de Chine. After a honeymoon in San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. North will reside in Hollywood.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MRS. MEYER ELDRÉD

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

Poisoning from Milk Protein
There are some few children who cannot drink milk without showing positive signs that it disagrees. This does not mean just a milk "upset," which may be due to a wrong formula, too much milk, or too rich milk, but the illness which is due to milk poisoning.

Doctors understand that this exists in some few children and their method of combating it is to feed the milk in drop doses gradually increased until the child acquires an immunity to the milk, or by inoculation of milk protein just as one is inoculated against the action of certain diseases.

The following letter suggests still another method which I failed to mention in the article on milk poisoning, and which is an excellent one. The use of other milks than fresh milk.

Mrs. R. N. R. writes:
"This letter is prompted by your article on milk protein poisoning with the hopes that I can, through your column, help the reader whose baby is subject to it. My three-year-old daughter has this idiosyncrasy and it caused me months of worry before I determined what it was and solved the diet problem. Most physicians doubt that a mother has tried every form of milk and every way of giving it or even that milk is poisonous to the child. A recent article by a doctor reveals that practically every article of food is poison to some person, but it is hard to make people, even well-informed people, believe it of milk."

"No amount of 'drop doses' would immunize my girl. The only other suggestion was inoculation as that for hay fever, etc., but the family physician advised against it. What I have discovered is that the child can take evaporated milk. This solves the cooking problem and can be used with flavored malt drinks, cocoa, etc. Unfortunately milk is so universally used that it is difficult to avoid and as the child gets older people will give her things to eat. I wish more of them had read your article on that subject. I cannot watch her every movement and it will be several years before I can be certain that she will not accept what is offered. I have had to supply her with protein in vegetables. I believe that many deaths from diarrhea are due to doctors refusing to believe that milk is to blame. I'll admit I found it hard to convince myself. What do you think of inoculation? My doctor does not believe in it, but it is a trial to have the child suffer with occasional attacks of diarrhea, disturbed sleep and skin eruptions when she eats something which contains milk."

ANSWER
I saw no reason why the inoculation would hurt the child, and it might do a lot of good, especially now since she is getting along with evaporated milk. It is possible that she is immunized against the small amount of milk she gets accidentally. Incidentally, dried milk can often be taken when fresh milk can not.

CANADIAN SCULLER WINS AT HENLEY

Joe Wright Defeats T. Collett
To-day in First of Diamond
Sculls Series

Henley-on-Thames, Eng., June 29
(Canadian Press Cable)—Three heats in the Diamond Sculls, emblematic of the world's amateur sculling championship, were decided this afternoon when with a total of twenty-five heats the first day's programme of the Royal Henley Regatta got under way.
Joe Wright, Jr., Canadian sculler, won from T. D. Collett, English oar-man, by two lengths in their heat.

Wright did the mile and fifty-five yards in 9 minutes 49 seconds, considerably better than the times made earlier by J. Beresford and D. Ouyé in winning their respective heats.

BERESFORD WON
J. Beresford, Jr., holder of the Diamond Sculls, easily defeated H. Boulton of Maidenhead in the semi-final, rowing for the Thames Rowing Club, caught up with Boulton after the latter had got in front at the start. Rowing easily, the Englishman won the famous trophy, overhauled Boulton to win by several lengths. His time for the mile and fifty-five yards was 9 minutes 22 seconds.

GUYE WINS
Guye of London was the winner of his heat, the second held. He beat the famous G. Goddard of Jesus College, Cambridge, runner-up in 1926. They started evenly and were abreast up to Temple Island. Going up to Collett's Island, Guye forged ahead and led by a length at the third signal. Sculling hard, he won a good race by one and one-half lengths in 9 minutes and 48 seconds.

SEMI-FINAL FRIDAY
Whether Wright will meet Guye or Beresford in the semi-final on Friday will be decided by the draw. The final will be rowed on Saturday.
Beresford has won the sculls for the last three years and also in 1920.
The Toronto sculler, if successful Friday and Saturday, will be emulating the feat of Lou Scholes, another Toronto sculler, in winning for Canada
the world's amateur sculling championship.

Wright was rowing in waters which compared well with his native lakes and rivers.

TEST CASE ON WAGE ACT BEFORE COURT

Ruling Sought on Minimum
Pay For Logging Camp
Cooks

Arguments Proceeding Before
Appeal Court on Cariboo
Case

A ruling of the B.C. Court of Appeal as to whether the new B.C.
Minimum Wage Act setting a minimum scale of forty cents an hour for logging camp and sawmill employees, applies to workers at the plants concerned not directly engaged in the industries is being argued.

The appeal is from the judgment of His Honor Judge Robertson in the Cariboo County Court on April 13, 1927. His Honor ruled that Cecil Compton, employed as second cook at the Allen Timber Lumber Company logging camp at Snowshoe, was entitled to the forty cent minimum.

SEEMS DIFFERENCE IN PAY
Alexis Martin as counsel for plaintiff, said cook in question agreed to work for $75 a month and board before the introduction of the new law. It was sought to recover $155.40, the difference in the wages he received and the wages he would have if he had received the minimum of forty cents per hour from the time the act went into force in September to the date the action started.

"He was paid the amount he agreed to work for, but the question is will be the last meeting of the week, when he will answer the question from the Bible, "Why Is the Salvation of the Lord Jesus Christ a Great Salvation?"

Judge Robertson by dismissing the cook's claim for wages upheld the logging company in their claim that the employees who worked in a hotel or boarding house which was open to the public as well as their employees was not engaged in the lumbering industry as defined by the Minimum Wage Act.

The notice of appeal contends the trial judge erred in holding that the carrying on of the logging industry in the nature of a bonus to the employees and that he should have held that it was necessary, customary and incidental to the carrying on of the industry to operate the boarding house.
It is claimed the judge should have held that the cook was engaged in working on the logging camps and sawmills.
H. B. Robertson, K.C., appears for the logging company.

GARNISHEE POINT TO GO TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Permission Granted to Appeal
From Court of Appeal Ruling

Leave to appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, on the point of whether a bank account may be garnished was granted by the B.C.
Court of Appeal in the application of W. J. Taylor, K.C., in the case of William Howard Sproule, plaintiff-appellant, and Herbert Sylvester Clements, defendant-respondent.

The sum of $18,000 is involved in the judgment and stay of execution was suspended following the Privy Council ruling.

Plaintiff garnished the bank account of defendant in the Standard Bank in August, 1924, and under arrangement made with the manager the sum of $14,236 is held by the bank under the same terms as if paid into court pursuant to a garnishing order.

JUDGMENT RESERVED
Judgment was reserved in the appeal of the Beban Lumber Company against the judgment of Mr. Justice Morrison and a special jury awarding $118.00 to Thomas Hughes, farmer of Cassidy, for trespass and wrongful conversion of timber on his land, between Extension and Ladysmith, during his absence in the Yukon. The trespasser and conversion, appellant also claims that Hughes is barred under the statute of limitations.

APARTMENT HOUSE CASE
Possession of an apartment house at Pender Street West, Vancouver, is sought for by two Chinese and two Chinese women in the appeal of Ruby Hon, Jong Kee Hong, Pearl Wong and Chew Sing against a County Court judgment of His Honor David Grant in Vancouver last April in favor of Karl
A. Ray, landlord.

A. C. Brydone-Jack appears for the landlord and Roy Ginn for the tenants.
On the ground that the tenants went behind in their payments and were undesirable tenants, two Chinese men being arrested on the premises for having narcotics in their possession, the landlord sought to have the tenants removed and was successful in securing an order from Judge Grant giving him back possession of the premises.
Stay of execution was granted pending the appeal, the Chinese now being in possession.

In the appeal against the judgment it was claimed that the case did not come under the Landlord and Tenant Act and the County Court was without jurisdiction. The sum of $21,000 was paid by the landlord between August 15, 1923, and November 1, 1926.
They were notified to leave on January 24 on the ground that they were in default $500 on the December, 1926, payment.

The defendants refused to vacate, claiming the option they secured when they entered the premises is equivalent in law to an agreement and they can only be compelled to vacate by foreclosure proceedings.
Mr. Justice McPhillips said he thought the case was one that should not be before the Appeal Court but before the Court of Equity. The court would rule whether the tenants had an agreement of sale.

Judgment was reserved, stay of proceedings continuing until payment is delivered.

NEW MOTOR LICENSE RULES FOR HOLIDAY

Half-yearly Licenses to be Issued on Afternoon of June 30

People who purchase automobiles during the next few days will not be cause of the Confederation Jubilee holidays, as a result of arrangements announced at the Parliament Buildings to-day.

Motor license offices will be open with skeleton staffs on Saturday morning, it was announced, but in addition new arrangements have been made to cover the case of people who wish to secure licenses for the last half of the year, commencing July 1. As all Government offices will close on July 1, automobile purchases will be able to secure licenses for the last half of the year after noon on Friday at the same rate as if application were made during July.

B.C. WOMEN TO DEMAND MIXED JURIES HERE

Large Delegation to Interview
Manson on Plan For Representation

Officials Fear Scheme Unworkable; Women Not Anxious For Jury Duty

Representatives of many women's organizations will meet Attorney-General Manson shortly to urge that the appointment of women on juries be made compulsory in all cases involving women and children.

This plan, sponsored originally by the Nanaimo Local Council of Women, has been endorsed by women's bodies in all districts of the Province and will go before Mr. Manson with their support.

While no definite decision has been made on the matter, officials of the Attorney-General's Department have discovered serious difficulties in the way of the mixed jury scheme.

WOULD CHANGE LAW
In the first place, it would involve not only amendments to the provincial Jury Act but also to the Criminal Code of Canada and it is considered unlikely that Parliament would alter the Criminal Code in this way. It has always been the practice of Parliament to maintain uniformity in the criminal laws of all the provinces so far as possible and it is thought unlikely that it would care to put British Columbia on a basis different from its neighbors in the appointment of juries.

The mixed jury plan would involve considerable expense here, too, as it would necessitate the printing of a du-ble set of jury lists and other complications.

NOT ANXIOUS TO SERVE
At present British Columbia women may serve on juries but cannot be compelled to do so. Generally they decline to serve and for this reason officials doubt that the women of the Provinces generally would favor a scheme by which their service would be made compulsory. No decision on the matter will be reached, however, until Mr. Manson has had discussed it fully with the delegates of women's organizations here.

AMERICAN VESSELS SHOWN AT JUTLAND

Audience Sees Humor in Dramatic Episode on Local Theatre's Screen

Considerable amusement has been caused during the week-end at Victoria's motion picture houses by certain episodes in an American-made film. One of the scenes in this picture shows American battleships steaming into action at the Battle of Jutland.

Patrons familiar with dates were under the impression that the Battle of Jutland was fought on May 31, 1916, approximately a year before the United States entered the war.

The picture also shows the transportation of 80,000 American troops to France prior to the Battle of Jutland.
No troops of the United States were sent to Europe in any great number until the Spring of 1918. The inaccuracy of the film as to dates is apparent throughout.

ESQUIMALT BOARD OF TRADE MEETS

At a meeting of the Esquimalt Board of Trade last evening a letter was read from the Minister of Public Works stating that an Order-in-Council had been passed granting authority to name the new drydock "Esquimalt Drydock." The members present were gratified by the consideration which had been shown to the representations made by the board.

The meeting dealt with a letter from the Esquimalt Municipal Council regarding the question of preserving access to the beaches west of Fraser Street.

HAWKINS & HAYWARD

PHONES 645-3927

A petition had been presented by a delegation from the board asking the council to ascertain the price and terms at which lots west of Fraser Street could be secured, if desired by the municipality for park purposes. The meeting decided that as the price of the lots had not been ascertained by the council, the board was unable to express an opinion, but again urged the desirability of preserving access to the beaches in daily use by women and children in the summer months.

A resolution was passed expressing regret that it had been found necessary to close the Sailors' Club, which has filled a need in the community for many years. A committee was appointed to make arrangements, if possible, for a boat excursion on a Wednesday afternoon, in August.
One new member, Rev. Father A. B.
Wood, was welcomed at the meeting.

COLORED QUARTETTE TO SING SPIRITUALS

Cotton Blossom Singers at Metropolitan Church Sunday

Victoria is to be visited on Sunday by a group of colored singers, consisting of a male quartette and a lady soprano, known as the Cotton Blossom Singers, from Mississippi, who will sing at the Metropolitan United Church both morning and evening. At the morning service they will sing two "spiritual" selections, and at the evening service they will sing several numbers in addition to an anthem by the church choir.

These singers are students from Piney Woods School in Piney Woods, Mississippi. Among the numbers to be sung are: "Steal Away," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Lord, I Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray," "Little David, Play on Your Harp," "Let's Go Down to Jordan," "King Jesus is a-Listening for My Lord," and others.

BIRD MIGRATION IS SUBJECT OF LECTURE

At the regular meeting of the Natural History Society on Monday evening last the topic of the lecture and discussion was "Bird Life."

L. E. Taylor of Saanich gave a most informative talk on the Migration of Birds, a subject which is of great interest to British Columbians. He described the various early theories which, owing to lack of observation, were much in error. The routes of travel, however, birds have been banded in Europe, and the same birds found in South African deserts and the knowledge of their routes and destinations has been established without doubt.

Other members gave reports on bird happenings around Victoria. The subject of the importation of skylarks was touched upon as, since last meeting, several persons have claimed that a shipment was made to Victoria as early as 1887.

MOTHERS TO CAMP AT CORDOVA BAY

Social Service League Asks For Assistance With Holiday Camp

With everybody thinking and planning for the jubilee celebration, the Social Service League is trying to make possible a holiday for some of the mothers and children at the beach.

There are many who have the opportunity to visit their relatives elsewhere, but for some of the children when the school year closes, there seems no happiness ahead except the play in the small back yard, and the mother wonders what she can do for some entertainment for her family. There is little time left after the household duties are done.

Last year eighty-four had the joys of camp on the seashore. For some it was their first holiday.

Next Wednesday it is hoped a large party will be able to leave Victoria for Cordova Bay for a two weeks' holiday. The league would like, besides money contributions, about one dozen camp cots and two large tents. Anyone wishing to help in this work, may send their contribution to the Social Service League, Room 45, Arcade-Building, Victoria.

ATTEMPT AT ASSASSINATION

Moscow, June 29.—The man who fired a revolver on Monday at M. Orlov, chairman of the Moscow Department of the Military Tribunal, has been identified as a former employee of the War Department named Benekendorf.

The Soviet News Agency, Tass, says Benekendorf was seeking to kill Orlov in the belief he was responsible for the sentence of thirty months' imprisonment which he recently served.

The man is said to be insane. M. Orlov was wounded, but his condition is not serious.

The Florence Nightingale Chapter at their meeting held yesterday at the residence of the regent, Mrs. F. J. Hall, voted the chapter full quota towards the recent extra allotment made for British Columbia to complete the I.O.D.E. war memorial.

At its inception immediately after the Great War it was thought half a million dollars would be sufficient to carry out the war memorial scheme with its burials and scholarships and pictures for the schools.

Last year after very careful consideration and study it was found that a further amount of $55,000 was needed absolutely to establish the war memorial.

Interest in British Columbia reached its first quota of $50,000 at the 1927 provincial annual meeting. Its new apportionment is $5,806, which on a membership of 2,800 is $2.08 per capita.

British Columbia has already awarded eleven Provincial University bursaries to the value of $200 to the sons and daughters of men who served overseas.

Four overseas scholarships to the value of $1,400 a year have been awarded.

At the meeting yesterday the reports of the recent garden party at Hatley Park showed that the splendid sum of $458.20 had been cleared. A donation of $10 was granted to the Local Council of Women's operating table endowment fund.

At the close the hostess served delicious refreshments.

A Story of One Wonderful Week
By MALCOLM DUART

Bodey winced. "That's all right," he said, his smile a trifle strained. "I told Miss Rollins to-day, and I expected her to tell you, I'm glad you and Irene are on good terms now, though."

"Best in the world," said Pierce. "I was surprised when I heard her shouting downstairs again."

"I'll tell you about it. You've got to have a line on what's doing in this bug-house."

Bodey told of Smith's letter to his mother, of his own offer to her, of the funds and Mrs. Smith's violent rejection of his roll of bills.

"Look here, Mr. Bodey—those are terrifically funny people," said Pierce, when the older man had finished. "Can't you get rid of 'em?"

The man responded with a wry smile. "I'm afraid not. The problem has been on my hands for a good many years, and it's likely to stay there permanently." He turned to greet Nadine, who had come into the hall from the rear. "Miss Rollins can tell you the story. Why—what's the matter?"

She had come further toward the light, revealing that her lips were twitching and her face was white. As he spoke, two big tears rolled down her cheeks and she began to sob.

"That awful woman!" she held one of the new handkerchiefs to her eyes. "She—she came and said the deadliest things to me in my room. She stopped to control her voice. 'She accused me again—being—after that boy—and she says—she'll write to the papers!' The girl broke down at this and wept aloud."

Bodey took her by the arm and led her into the yard. Pierce accompanied them in deep concern. A heavy branch from one of the trees lay near the fence and they seated themselves upon it until Nadine's flood of tears had begun to dry.

"She won't write to the papers—and even if she did they wouldn't print it," Bodey said, then. "Don't let her worry you."

"But I can't help it! Mr. Bodey, please can't I go away?" She clasped her hands in appeal. "Please can't I? I'll not say a solitary word to anybody about you, or about Smith or anything!"

The man got up and paced before her, his hands behind his back, his brow wrinkled.

"I wish to Moses I could let you go—you and Mr. Pierce. But if you go back home now, you'll simply have to tell where you've been and why. And listen—'He came to her and placed his hand on her arm. 'Do you want to know why I dare not let you tell?'"

CHAPTER XXII

Pierce and Nadine lifted their faces eagerly.

Bodey paused a moment as if to collect his thoughts. His fingers dropped from the girl's arm.

"There's been a tragedy," he said. "Murder!"

The word came from Pierce involuntarily.

"A tragedy," Bodey repeated, his voice steady. "If word gets abroad where I am, or where Smith is, there will be another. Are you willing to bring it about, Miss Rollins?"

"No," she said, shivering and lifting her hands to her face.

"Do you mean you and Smith?" asked Pierce. "Will the tragedy involve you two?"

"We are—" he hesitated—"interested in it. Deeply interested. So interested that I have kidnapped both of you to ward off the danger." He crouched upon his heels, bringing his face on a level with theirs. "Understand me, the danger isn't gone—it's here always. There may come a time when Smith and I must go, and when suddenly—as we started to do when you ran away, Pierce. If we do go, you are free. You can tell whatever you choose."

A pink glow had come to Nadine's cheeks and her eyes were sparkling.

"There's something," she cried, "in the way you speak—but I know you're not guilty! It's Smith that did it, whatever it was! Isn't that true?"

"He shook his head. 'I'm sorry,' he said, 'but I'm as guilty as he is.'"

Her face fell, but Pierce spoke up. "Then, by the lord Harry, neither of you is guilty."

"That's it! That's it!" The girl patted her hands in delight. "It's all Quickly he ate his breakfast, with his mother, Nurse Jane and his daddy waiting on him and then Uncle Wiggily, looking at the clock, said:

"We still have time to get to school before the last bell rings if you will hurry, Bumble. Come along!"

Clapping his little boy rabbit by one paw and twinkling his pink nose as fast as he could, Uncle Wiggily ran along the path that led to the hollow stump where the Lady Mouse Teacher heard the lessons of the animal children.

But Bumble had not run very far beside his father before the little boy rabbit called:

"Wait a minute, Daddycums, if you please!"

"What's the matter?" asked Mr. Longears. "Is your stocking coming down?"

"No, but I dropped one of my best agates," said Bumble. "It's back there on the path! I'll get it!"

He ran back and picked up one of his marbles, hurrying to clasp his father's paw again.

"Don't lose any more," warned Uncle Wiggily. "Or we shall be late."

He and Bumble ran on together a little longer and then, all of a sudden, the little boy rabbit again cried:

"Oh, please stop, Daddycums! There goes another of my marbles." Bumble ran back to pick it up and when he joined his father again Mr. Longears said:

"You must have a hole in that pocket, I'll look!"

Turning the little rabbit's pocket inside out showed, surely enough, a hole through which the marbles kept dropping. "We'll put them in your other pocket," said Uncle Wiggily, and this was done.

Then the two hurried on again, but they had not gone far before Bumble cried:

"I just dropped more of my marbles, Daddycums. I guess there's a hole in my other pocket, too!" And so there was—holes in both pockets. Uncle Wiggily didn't know what to do. His own pockets were so filled he had no room for Bumble's marbles. And if the little rabbit carried his marbles in his paws they would be sure to drop more often.

But, all of a sudden, a bird flew down on the path and said:

"I will give you a bag in which you can carry Bumble's marbles until the holes in his pockets can be sewed up."

"How can you give us a bag?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Because I am a Baltimore Oriole," was the answer, "and my nest is shaped just like a bag. I can't give you my new nest, but I will give you the old one I made last year. Wait a minute!"

The Oriole flew up into a tree and soon there came dropping down a cunningly woven nest, just like a bag, made of bits of string, hair from the tails of horses, and fine grass.

"Oh, that bag will be just fine for my marbles!" cried Bumble. So all the marbles from his leaky pockets were put in the bird bag nest and he and Uncle Wiggily hopped on to school, getting there just as the last bell was ringing. So Bumble wasn't late and on his way back home Mr. Longears thanked the Oriole most kindly.

have to get up early any more. This is vacation and there isn't any school!"

"Oh, you poor child! You have the day all mixed up!" said Nurse Jane. "This is only Wednesday! You must go to-day, to-morrow and Friday before it's the last day of school. Come now, hurry and you won't be very late. Or, if you are, the Lady Mouse Teacher may excuse you as it is the last week of school."

"What's the matter up there?" called Uncle Wiggily from the foot of the stairs. The stairs had no shoe on its foot if you ask me."

"Here's Bumble! He forgot to go to school!" squeaked Nurse Jane.

"Oh, dear me! That must never be!" cried the bunny gentleman. "Hurry him downstairs. Get his breakfast ready. Mother, and I'll help him hop to school. I don't want one of my little bunnies to be absent or late the last week of school!"

So Bumble hopped out of bed, hopped into his clothes, hopped down stairs and hopped to the breakfast table.

NEW AIR JOURNEY
RECORD IN AUSTRALIA

Kingsford Smith Encircled
Country in Ten Days, Five Hours

Sydney, Australia, June 29.—The round-Australia flight record of twenty-two days has been cut more than half by Lieut. Kingsford Smith, who completed the circuit of 7,539 miles in ten days five hours, with an actual flying time of 88 hours 26 minutes—an average speed of 86 miles an hour. Kingsford Smith got a great reception on his return here.

Among the first to congratulate him was the holder of the previous record, Col. Brindley, Australia's air marshal.

A remarkable circumstance of the flight is that the plane used by Kingsford Smith, a Bristol tourer, is fifteen years old. It gave not the slightest trouble.

Petrol was sent by camel transport in some places in the remote North and Northwest.

A second plane left Sydney on a continent encircling tour, and has reached Darwin.

Commander Waykett flew an amphibious machine of his own construction from Sydney to Melbourne in five hours—a distance of 600 miles.

Another plane has left Melbourne to fly over the arid heart of Australia.

IT IS FITTING THAT WE SHOULD HONOR "THE FATHERS OF CONFEDERATION"

It is timely that we should recall our obligation to those "Sons of Canada" who went forth to the great war and saved Canada for us—especially those men who, in the doing, are now disabled for life. We are striving to give steady work to thirty-five such men. It can only be done with your assistance.

A TIRE is a carcass and a tread. Goodyear has combined, in the new Goodyear Balloon, the greatest carcass and the greatest tread ever designed.

SUPERTWIST Cords

The carcass of a tire is there to absorb road shocks. The greatest enemies of balloon tire mileage are the blows and bumps which break the cords inside the tire. The new Goodyear Balloon is built of SUPERTWIST Cords, which are 61% more elastic than old-style cords. They will stand a 61% harder blow without breaking. Obviously, this tire carcass has longer life.

New All-Weather Tread

Balloon tires have raised many tread problems—rapid tread wear, uneven tread wear, noise. The new All-Weather Balloon Tread overcomes all these. It wears evenly and for thousands and thousands of miles. It runs smoothly and quietly—yet, on demand, grips the road hard and hangs on. It adds to the appearance of any car.

This great tire has been tested to the full—on thousands of cars and for 5,400,000 tire miles on Goodyear's test fleet. It has proved its right to the name World's Greatest Tire. It is now available, at prices no higher than you are asked for other tires, from Goodyear Selected Dealers.

TRAVEL CONDITIONS ON MALAHAT SHOW RAPID IMPROVEMENT

Widening Programme Gives Motorists New Era of Comfort on Highway

Parsons Bridge Work Progressing; New Viaduct to Span Arbutus Canyon

Travel conditions on the Malahat Highway are being rapidly transformed as a result of extensive improvements undertaken by the Provincial Public Works Department. The programme of road widening started some weeks ago is beginning to show splendid results already, indicating to motorists that when it is complete the famous scenic road will offer driving comfort such as they have not known there before.

NEW BRIDGE UNDER WAY
Starting at Parsons Bridge the programme covers practically the entire highway as far as Mill Bay. The new Parsons Bridge, a substantial and permanent structure of cement, is being built now, and meanwhile traffic is being carried on a temporary wooden bridge, built at a good deal of inconvenience to engineers so that motorists would not have to use a detour. The new bridge will carry the water mains of the city, which are being put into their permanent location now. The alignment of the viaduct will eliminate the old curve which proved a serious hazard to cars traveling from Colwood towards the city.

ROAD WIDENED
At Goldstream the Malahat has been widened out to avoid all chance of collisions between cars starting up or coming down the Goldstream Hill. The blasting operations, carried out there also permit cars to turn around at this point conveniently.

Further up the highway many sharp corners have been rounded off with the cutting away of rock walls, and this process is being pressed forward towards the Summit. A gasoline compressor and a steam shovel are being used to hasten the progress of this work, which is proceeding rapidly.

AT ARBUTUS CANYON
Construction also has been started on the construction of a new bridge across Arbutus Canyon, to replace the present structure and practically to eliminate the present sharp curve there.

Meanwhile improvements are being effected on the Shawnigan Lake cut-off road, which is becoming the artery for constantly-increasing traffic. Rough spots will be smoothed out, while many sharp curves are being reduced.

PHILIP TO OPEN MISSION BRIDGE

Patrick Philip, Deputy Minister of Public Works, will formally open the new highway bridge across the Fraser River at Mission on Friday. It was announced to-day. Residents of the district served by the bridge invited Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, to officiate at the opening, but as he will attend Confederation Jubilee ceremonies in Victoria to represent the Government he cannot go to the mainland. Mr. Philip, instead, will declare the new highway open formally open for motor travel.

The railway bridge across the Fraser at Mission was planned by the Public Works Department in record time and approaches constructed to carry automobile traffic. The new route will be of enormous benefit to the Fraser Valley and its opening will be made an occasion of public celebration.
